DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 14-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 14, lines 7-8, "at least two plug elements formed on at least one of said middle piece and said end pieces" renders the claim inoperable since the embodiment would include the plug elements located at the same location as that of the receiving element as stated in lines 5-6 of the claim. For clarity, lines 7-8 may be written as "...formed on the other one of said at least of said middle piece...".

Note similar errors in claim 25 and claim 29.

In claim 33, lines 7-13 are confusing. From lines 5-6 of the claim, it is understood that the "receiving elements" are corresponding in number to at least two plug elements. That is, it only requires that there are a number of receiving elements, and the number of receiving elements are corresponding to at least two plug elements. "at least two plug elements" are not necessary a positive limitation. However, later in lines 7-13 of the claim, the claim language suggests that "plug elements" are structurally linked or fixed to other elements. Therefore it is not clear whether the “plug elements” are positive limitation or a mere environmental limitation.

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 33-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In claim 33, lines 9-12, “each being of a size...than the remainder of the plug elements” has no support from the original disclosure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 14-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Ozawa (5,144,718). Note that process of a product made in the product claim (e.g. extruded, injection molded, scoring) is given no patentable weight.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 8/6/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Ozawa clearly shows a middle piece (7), two end pieces (8, 9) receiving elements (cavities of two opposite ends of middle piece 7), two plug elements (20, 18), and the receiving elements having continuous peripheral walls over their length (figure 1). For "no continuity" between the end pieces and the middle piece, see figures 2 and 5. Further, applicant's argument based on "complex arrangement of elements" of prior art is irrelevant. Ozawa simply meets every limitation as claimed.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
